About our client

Our client Abdishakur Adan's non-profit organization "Bigger Than Sports Foundation" may be small, but it's committed to making a big impact in the community through sports-related initiatives. Despite limited resources, its grassroots approach aims to create positive change locally, inspiring broader transformations over time.

Client Requirement

- Needs an about section of his organization
- Needs a section to update future events
- A section for his Contact information
- A donation section as well for the organization

Client Feedback

We received some valuable feedback from our client on the initial version of the website, describing it as a great starting point. However, it's clear that we still have some work to do in order to fully meet their needs. They've highlighted several areas where additional features and improvements are needed to enhance user experience and achieve their goals. We appreciate their input and are eager to implement the necessary changes to ensure the website aligns perfectly with their vision and objectives
